Hi

Interested?

Considering the identity of the company he works for (Blackstone), I believe it might be worth a meeting, especially with regards to potential investments in Israel.

By the way, the person who approached me is Beno Gitter's grandson.

Subject: Blackstone

Hi David,

One of my best friends and greatest persons I know, Arik Rashkes, is a Director at Blackstone and will be visiting Israel between 11-16 October together with Ivan Brockman (Senior Managing Director at Blackstone Advisory who is responsible for the Technology sector - see bio: http://www.blackstone.com/the-firm/overview/our-people/ivan-brockman).

Arik and Ivan are interested to meet with decision makers (CEO's, majority owners, Chairman of Boards etc.) of companies that are large enough, mature and growing (not startups) that might need the following:

1. Advisory services in the U.S. - mainly M&A advisory but capital markets advisory as well.

2. Private placements and capital raises.

3. Companies that could be a great target for one of the Blackstone funds to invest/acquire.

Do you think that Mr. Barak would be interested/available to meet with them?

If so, I will e-introduce you to each other so you can coordinate directly.

All the best, Boaz.

Yours sincerely,

Boaz Schweiger
